Translations

O Salutaris

(O Blessed Redeemer):

O Saving Victim opening wide the gate of heaven to all below.
Our foes press on from every side; Thine aid supply, Thy strength bestow.

Oye

All alone, in the darkness they are crying out for your help
They are crying out for your help
They are hoping, they are dreaming
They are asking for a chance to be heard.

Are you listening, can you hear their cries?

They are watching, they are listening
They are searching to find their way
Can you see them, can you hear them calling
What their voices are trying to say.

Quien Fuera Como El Jazmín

The second piece of six from the suite Indianas:

Who could be like the jasmine, when it begins to bloom,
giving fine perfume, to be in your possession.
To be in your possession, my love, who could be a flower!

Who could be as the rose, with its gracefulness,
arising, red, with the light of the new day.
To be in your possession, my love, who could be a flower!

Who could be as the carnation, a variegated carnation,
growing in blushes and sprinkled in white.
To be in your possession, my love, who could be a flower!

Ton Thé

Well-known French tongue-twister:

“Your tea? Has it removed your cough?”

Bonse Aba

Traditional Zambian Song:

All that sing have the right to be called the children of God.
